

Stranded

I'm stranded in a forest,
A black bear growls,
Blue birds sing,
The stars sparkle in the dark skies
above,
I start walking.

I am in a meadow now,
Running through the wild flowers,
Dancing like a bee,
I get thirsty and walk a little further.

I spot a river,
I find toads with green bodies and
black stripes,
I take a sip of the water,
It tastes like a river of love,
I grow hungry,
I walk a little more.

I find an apple orchard,

I pick an apple,
The sweet apple's taste fills my mouth,
I take another and walk on,
looking for a place to sleep.

I find a village,
An Indian village,
With teepee's and canoes,
"Can I sit by the fire?" I ask,
"Yes" one says in a kind voice,
Time passes,
I ask if I could stay until someone finds me,
"Yes" one says again.

More time passes,
I hear a helicopter,
It's louder than a waterfall falling in the lake,
"Help" I scream,
They see me,
They land in the village,
They take me home and I'm safe once again.
